SINCERE EVALUATION & FEEDBACK

St Maur Elderflower Liqueur - 20 % ABV - reviewed July 2022

Score and feedback: 94 out of 100 - a near perfect product that is outstandingly well made and only could be made better by tiny adjustments. All of our judges were very impressed and this score reflects a top medal at any self-respecting drinks awards. It is definitely the best Elderflower-themed liqueur most of our specialists have tried and we highly recommend it. We rarely score 94 or above and it reflects top quality with a virtually perfect product. Congratulations.

Tasting Note: It all starts with a noteworthy natural, light peach colour with a copper hue. Beautiful and fresh from the first glance to the finish and beyond. St Maur has an intense elderflower-lead nose with aromatic white flowers, beautiful red berry fruit and crisp, zesty citrus aromas. Big, excellent and natural on the palate with a pronounced fruity and floral richness and no bitterness whatsoever. There's nicely positioned supporting soft red berry fruit, especially some crisp redcurrants in the background with some citrus zest keeping it fresh. Not too sweet on the palate like many others tend to be from this genre, and it has a great balance between sugar and acidity. This is a very well made example with a natural feel and a lovely grown up elegance to it. A splendid cocktail ingredient but also a great sip on its own slightly chilled.
